The programme began with the singing of a hymn, "Christ Thou Art the Sure Foundation," followed by the address of the Reverend Herzberger, who urged the necessity of establishing more schools and missions. He said that education is always for the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom. The services closed with singing by the congregation, Professor Henkel acting as organist.

The Building Committee, which is composed as follows, was present: George D. Carl, president; August Foehl, Martin Berg, M. Fasshois, O. Hermann, O. D. Schmidt, Julius Olsen, L. Yehling, A. Kiel, August Radke, Fred Aufderheide, Otto Ude. The first seven of the above named constitute the vestrymen of the church.

The church when complete will also be used as a school. In the course of a few years it is the intention of the congregation to erect a much larger building on the corner of the same lot. This will then be used as a church, and the building now in course of construction will be converted into a school. The congregation's first place of worship at Park avenue, near Jefferson avenue, was destroyed by the cyclone. The state of the church, 100 by 125 feet, was purchased for 33,4%. The structure is to be of brick and will cost about $4,000. The church has a membership of fifty-eight voting, and about three hundred communicant, members.

New Yorker Says Sunflower State Republicans Are in Line.

PUBLIC SPECIAL.
Opeka, Kas., Aug. 11.-M. Lessier, a Topeka, Kas., Aug. 11.—M. Lassler, a leading Republican politician of New York City, has been in Kansas several weeks ostensibly on legal business, but busily engaged all the time in working up a boom for Colonel Roosevelt for President to succeed McKinley. Lassler says he finds the Republicans of Kansas unanimous for Roosevelt, and that nothing is necessary but to go ahead and prepare for the delegates and convention. Lassler said to-night that he was commissioned by the Young Man's Republican Club of New York to come to Ransas and work up sentiment for Roosevelt, but he finds it unnecessary to do any work, as the rank and file of the party are for Roosevelt any way. He says the Republicans of New York and the East and West are to take the initiatory in this matter, and as the Kansans declared for Roosevelt for Vice President at Philadelphia, it is proposed that this State lead off for him to moceed McKinley.

Him on His Election as Secre-

Fifty officers of the Eighth District surorised Patrolman Thomas J. McCormack with a congratulation party at his home No. fill McRee avenue, yesterday afternoon. The occasion for the festivities was Mc-Cormack's recent election to the secretary-ship of the Police Relief Association.

The merrymakers brought refreshment with them in a patrol wagon, which drove up to McCormack's house with clanging gongs. As he came to the door to inquire the cause of the disturbance his brother officers informed him that he was under ar-rest, and would be detained in his own home pending the investigation of the quantity of provisions said to have been stolen. Mc-Cormack took the joke in good part, and joined in making the occasion a success. The election of McCormack to the secretaryship of the Relief Association completes one of the most varied experiences of any man in the Police Department, Starting out as a telephone boy at the Soulard Street Station. McCormack was seen made driver to the Chief of Police. When the switchboard was established at the Four Courts he was made operator there, and later was appointed a clerk at headquarters. He was next operator of the fire alarm, and in 1897 assigned to the Eighth District.

Though a section of his skull equal to me-fourth its surface area has been cut away. Thomas Keegan, 48 years old, of No. 1987 South Second street, a patient at the City Hospital, lives and is conscious. The operation removing the bone was per-formed at the hospital a week ago by Doctor H. L. Nietert, superintendent of the mstitution. At that time his chances of recovery were thought less than 20 per cent, but he has railled to such an extent that the physicians attending him believe that he soon will be able to leave his cot a well man.

Early last Monday morning, Keegan fell downstairs at his home. He was picked up at the foot of the steps unconscious, and was taken to the City Hospital. Upon examination, the physicians found that the right side of the head above the ear had caved in, as if it were an eggshell. Over a space of three inches long and three inches wide the bone was broken to bits, and the jagged fragments were pressing upon and jagged fragments were pressing upon and had lacerated the gray matter of the brain. With forceps and scalpel, Doctor Nietert laid bare the skull. All the broken bone was removed, the skin drawn over the brain, and the wound bandaged. Dressings have been changed from day to day, and the patient kept quiet. Nature has deno the rest, and yesterday Keegan was as cheerful as a lark. Several of his friends visited him. He received them all, and was able to talk to them.

He will show that he left Clenfuegos for Santiago the moment he was conviced tha the Spanish fleet was not in the former harbor. An examination of the logs of the developed information which, in the opinion of his friends, entirely justified him in the the Marblehead. Eagle and the Vixen arrived at Key West direct from Clenfuegos, and Captain McCalla of the Marblehead reported to Admiral Sampson that he had arranged a code of signals for the Cubans and had fixed a rendexvous on shore where they could be communicated with, and where information could be exchanged. Admiral Sampson directed this information to be communicated to the commanders of the vessels of the fleet, and it was given to all the commanders then at Key West, including Captain Robley D. Evans of the Iowa.

At this time Admiral Schley, with the Flying Squadron, was on his way to Clenfuegos, and it was impossible to communicate with him. The Iowa reached Clenfuegos May 25, but Captain Evans supposed that Admiral Schley had the signal code and did not communicate it to him and it was not until next day, when Captain McCalla joined the Flying Squadron with the Marblehead, Eagle and Vixen, that Admiral Schley knew of the code. Captain McCalla upon arrival communicated with the insurgents and ascertained that the Spanish squadron was not in the harbor. As Admiral Schley had been directed by Admiral Sampson to mask his real direction upon departure, he waited until after dark, when he steamed for Santiago de Cuba.

It will be contended by Rear Admiral Schley that he was justified in remaining at Clenfuegos until he had definitely established whether the Spanish fleet was in that harbor and that under the instructions given him he was required to obtain exact information before he salled for Santiago de Cuba.

To have left that point for Santiago when the Spaniards might have given out information showing that Cervera's squadron was at that point as a ruse, would have been, in his opinion, a grave error of judgment, which might have had irreparable consequences.

He is satisfied, according to his friends in Washington, that this explanation will conval of an army officer to take him back to his post.

"I liked army life when I was in the Philippine Islands," said Berner, "and, in fact, liked it so well that I enisted after I was mustered out on my return from the islands. But when I got to Fort Sheridan I did not like the life so well. I began to realize that I would never make as good a soldier as I was before and I grew tired of the work. I asked for a furlough, and being refused, decided to run away. I came direct from Fort Sheridan to St. Louis."

Berner enlisted in the army on May 7, 1888, in Company G. Twenty-third Infantry. He was in the Philippine Islands until last February and was mustered out of the service at San Francisco, February 22. On May 24 he again enlisted in St. Louis and was assigned to duty as a Sergeant in Company M. Twenty-ninth Regiment, stationed at Fort Sheridan.

ATHLETES MEET AT NATIONALISTS' PICNIC

Ten Thousand Visitors Witness Interesting Contests at the Fair Grounds.

DEVANNEY WINS THREE RUNS.

Henneman of Keokuk Easily Takes the Weight Events-B. C. Hopkins Wins Half-Mile Run in the Arena.

Ten thousand persons attended the picnic of the Irish Nationalists at the Fair Grounds yesterday, witnessing one of the best athletic programmes presented in this city recently.

The crowds commenced to gather in the Fair Grounds early in the day, several thousand persons arriving by noon, and taking their dinner on the grounds. Hundreds continued to pour in throughout the

The picnic was in charge of an Entertainnent Committee headed by Jeremiah Sheehan and P. R. Pitzgibbon, while the athletic programme was in charge of Myles McDonough, Steve Kane, Theodoric Bland and William Caples, who acted as judges, and P. M. Quirk, Frank B. Higgins, H. Louis Massle, Arthur Donnelly, M. McEnery, Patrick O'Keefe and J. J. Murphy, who served as clerks of the course. Chief of Police Mathew Kiely was grand marshal.

Nineteen athletic events were competed in the course of the afternoon, features of the day being the performances of Daniel Devanney in the running events and of Charles H. Henneman, Chief of Police of Keokuk, Ia., in the weight throwing events. Devanney won the 100-yard, 220-yard and 440-yard dashes, while Henneman carried off first prize in the shot-put and discus off first prize in the shot-put and discus throwing.

Good Time on Slow Track.

Devanney's time in the running events was good, even considering his handicap of several yards in each event, on account of the slow condition of the track. The 220 and 440 yards courses were curved throughout their length, the 440-yard course including - circuit of the arena, while the 100-yard course was stretched straight across a banked portion of the track, making the first fifty yards slightly downhill, and the last fifty yards slightly uphill.

Devanney was far the best in the three events and would have won even without handicaps. His win of the 250-yard dash was especially impressive, as he ran completely away from his field and won by iffteen yards in 242-5 seconds. In the 440-yard dash was completely at his mercy.

Henneman was one of the largest contestants of the day. He stands more than six feet in height and is heavy in proportion and he simply walked over his opponents in the weight events. In the shot put he gave his opponents handicaps of from 2 feet 6 inches to 6 feet, and won with ease, while his throw of Ill feet in the discus throwing contest was nearly 13 feet further than the second man's effort.

The half mile run, won by B. C. Hopkins, was a pretty contest, and was carried off by probably the best trained man in the list of entries. Hopkins ran with a smooth, even stride throughout, and starting on the last 290 yards of the course, led his field by nearly thirty yards. At this point Harry J. Klener began to work his way from back in the bunch, and started after Hopkins and Andrew Elder, who were first and second.

Klener ran through his field in the last.

Klener Makes His Run Too Late.

M. St. Clair Shaw, who finished first and second.

Emil Freymark jumped 5 feet 6 inches from scratch in the running high jump, and won with ease. The pole vaulting contest was made interesting by the presence of the veteran John C. Meyers, who failed, however, to get in the first three. M. St. Clair Shaw won from scratch with a vault of 10 feet. Horse and mule races closed the sport of the day.

About 4 o'clock in the afternoon William Condon, living on Koesuth avenue, became involved in a dispute with a bystander and, it is alleged, fired at him. The bullet struck Hugo M. Strang of No. 3722 Vest avenue in the left arm near the elbow and passing through lodged in the leg of Ben Lomax of No. 1725 North Leffingwell avenue. Condon was arrested. Strang and Lomax were taken to Doctor Pierce's office at No. 4046 North Grand avenue, and their injuries treated.

Doctor G. E. Wikinson of Alton has just received the appointment of staff surgeon on the staff of Captain W. Dwight Wyman the yacht Dorothea, which was recently loaned the Illinois Reserves by the Fed-

Doctor Wilkinson is one of the best-known physicians in Alton, and a member of the Board of Education. He also enjoys the distinction of being the originator of the Alton Naval Militia, having organized the Alton crew. He served as their First Lieutenant Commander.

MAY PAVE COLLEGE AVENUE.

Official Step Taken to Have Contract The first official step toward securing an extension of the paving of College avenue extension of the paving of College avenue in Upper Alton was taken on Saturday at a meeting of the Board of Public Improvement, heid in the Village Hail. A petition was presented to the board by property-holders along the route of the proposed paving, asking that the board recommend the improvement to the Village Council. The board inspected the petition, and reported that the number of signatures of resident property-holders exceeded half of the frontage by 80 feet. A motion was carried to recommend the improvement to the Village Council. Engineers H. C. Swift and T. M. Long made a report to the board that the cost of the proposed paving would be $2,600, and that the area to be paved, including crossings, would be $5,600 feet.

According to the petition, the paving is to be 35 feet in width. That section of College avenue varies in width from $0 to $6 feet, and the wide space on either side will be improved with walks and lawn plots.

side will be improved with walks and lawn plots.

A second meeting of the Board of Public Improvements will be held on August 22, at which time, in accordance with the recently-enacted statutes in Illinois covering public improvements, a public discussion and inspection of the petition will be made. The petition will then pass to the Village Council, with the recommendation of the board that an ordinance be passed, permitting the work to be done. The ordinance, with the petition and recommendation, will go to the County Court for its approval, ten days after which the contract can be let. The promoters of the improvement expect to let the contract between September 29 and October 1. The work will take from sixty to ninety days to complete, and when finished Upper Aiton will have College avenue and its extension paved for a distance of two miles, extending from the Alton City limits on Garden street to the "Cut-Off" on the Chicago and Alton Railroad.

Mr. Adams was seated on the front porch at his home when he noticed the child playing in the street. An East St. Louis street car whizzed by the little one and made Mr. Adams's heart beat quicksly. Running down to the corner he called to the child. It was in the middle of the car tracks. A Bellieville car was approaching at a high rate of speed, but the motorman had spied the child and was applying the brakes. The Little one turned and started to Mr. Adams. The batoy had gone, but a couple of feet when she turned back to the car tracks.

Mr. Adams realized that the motorman could not stop the car in time, and he dashed after the child. A quick grab at her dress caused her to cry, but Mr. Adams's hold was firm and as he cleared the track with his hittle burden, the car brushed his ciothes as it rushed by. Mrs. Kimball was in the house at the time and when Mr. Adams returned the child to her, he told her merely that he had found her playing in the street and had carried her home.

ARE AFTER THE TAX DODGERS. Clair County Board of Revision Examining Records.

For a week members of the Board of Re riew have been delving into the records at the State, and as a result, have found about $400,000 worth of loans on St. Clair County

JERSEY COUNTY'S CORN CROP. Chapman Says It Will Hot Yield 40 Per Cent.

Yield 40 Per Cent.

Senator T. S. Chapman of Jerseyville does not think the corn crop in Jersey. County will average more than 80 per cent of the regular yield. In the last few days Senator Chapman has had occasion to be over the greater part of the county, and while he found that in the bottom lands the yield would in many cases exceed that figure, the upland crop conditions were sepoor that the average will be greatly reduced.

"I think the question is not one concerning the yield of corn," and the Senator, but whether we shall even have fodden. Possibly most farmers do not feed fodder to the extent that I do, but the scarcity of other grain will compel them to do so this year, provided the fodder is fit to use. From the result of my examination I am of the opinion that it is So per cent water, and that it will be of little service when put into the crusher, grinding to powder as soon as it is irled. The shortage on the hay crop will make the feeding of fodder a necessity."

Several of the farmers around Fosterbushave turned their cattle into the cornfished claiming that the corn will not even mitted fodder. Most of this class of corn, however, is on upland fields of white soil.
